WaterFix impacts on Water Authority’s Ratepayers

- How MWD recovers WaterFix costs may uniquely impact Water Authority
- Water Authority does not derive any unique benefit from WaterFix that should cause it to pay more than other MWD member agencies

Water Authority May Board Action

- May 2018: draft Bay-Delta policy update to address WaterFix implementation impact
  - Staff directed to develop position statement and policy principles to support current WaterFix design and construction while protecting Water Authority ratepayers
Activities between May and July

- Following Board direction, staff sought input on draft Policy Principles from member agency managers
  - Presented/discussed at member agency managers meetings June 19 and July 17
  - Emails on June 20, July 3 and July 13
  - Received input, including one written assessment
- Updated policy and position statement postponed in June to accommodate Special Board workshop
- Position statement and policy update revised this week at the suggestion of IWC Chair Weston
WaterFix Policy Principles

- Support current design and construction plans for WaterFix provided costs are properly allocated
- Support beneficiary pays cost allocation approach
- WaterFix costs be characterized and allocated as supply costs by MWD and DWR
- Support independent oversight function to monitor and provide regular updates on implementation progress
- Oppose actions that result in San Diego ratepayers paying for unsubscribed WaterFix costs
 Modification Proposed by Chair Weston

- Support current design and construction plans for WaterFix provided costs are properly allocated
- Support beneficiary pays cost allocation approach
- WaterFix costs be characterized and allocated as supply costs by MWD and DWR
- Support independent oversight function to monitor and provide regular updates on implementation progress
- Oppose actions that result in San Diego ratepayers paying for unsubscribed WaterFix costs
Position Statement on WaterFix

The Water Authority Board of Directors supports the WaterFix project, as currently proposed, conditioned upon the Metropolitan Water District (MWD) allocating the costs of the project as conservation, or supply charges as similar facilities historically have been defined in MWD’s SWP contract with DWR, and San Diego ratepayers not paying for unsubscribed WaterFix costs that benefit third parties.
Modification Proposed by Chair Weston
